

The Olga Lengyel Institute for Holocaust Studies and Human Rights

SUMMER SEMINARS FOR EDUCATORS

The Holocaust, Human Rights, and the Role of Education

Salisbury, MD | August 6–12, 2023

Through a focus on human resilience and social action and using collaborative learning strategies, participants will expand their awareness of the Holocaust, other genocides, and human rights in the context of the Mid-Atlantic region.

BENEFITS OF PARTICIPATION

- Interactive strategies for teaching the Holocaust, genocide, and human rights
- Thought-provoking presentations by local and national experts
- Books and other resource materials
- Meals and other community-building opportunities
- Professional development credits
- Year-round support network
- Field trips to local civil rights sites, including the Harriet Tubman Underground Railroad State Park and US Holocaust Memorial Museum

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

- Middle and high school teachers and college faculty
- Educators from all disciplines, especially Social Studies, History, English, and Language Arts
- Those who seek to deepen their knowledge, confidence, and skills for teaching challenging content

SEMINAR FACILITATORS

Julia Berg teaches middle school social studies in Salisbury and is experienced at integrating human rights topics into the middle school history curriculum.

Alexander (Sandy) Pope is an Associate Professor of social studies education at Salisbury University and a leader in civic engagement.

Ready to apply?

Learn More

toli.us/regional-program/salisbury-maryland/

QUESTIONS?

Email axpope@salisbury.edu

Holocaust survivor Henia Lewin with a teacher at a TOLI summer seminar.

“TOLI has transformed my teaching and has given me the tools to tackle difficult topics and uncomfortable history.”

— TOLI participant

TOLI seminars are offered at no cost to educators.